Southern California Anxious to Name the Next Governor.

WASHINGTON, February 27.—Reports come from California that the Republican candidates for the nomination for Governor of that State are carrying on a most active campaign in a quiet way. One feature of the struggle, which has not yet been discussed, will probably become of some importance before the convention meets. With the increase of population and wealth of the Southern part of the State there has sprung up the natural desire among the people there that that section should have more political power in the State. Letters from California state that Southern California will demand either the next Governor or the next United States Senator. As the State has not been apportioned since the census of 1880 was taken, the large increase in population in Southern California since that time is not represented in the Legislature, and the strength of that section is diminished in that body to that extent. This would prevent Southern California from exerting the influence it is entitled to in the State Legislature and its prospects of electing a Senator from that section are correspondingly diminished. This fact makes it impracticable for Southern California to insist upon naming the next United States Senator, and it is therefore thrown back on its claim to name the next Governor. This claim will be made, and it may disturb the plans of some of the candidates who live in or about San Francisco.

A Wealthy Union.

To-day a wedding will unite two of the wealthiest Hebrew families in New York city. The bride is Miss Julia Wormser, the only daughter of Isador Wormser of the firm of I. & S. Wormser, bankers. This lady is reputed to be the richest Hebrew heiress in the United States. The groom is Jefferson Seligman, son of James Seligman of the well-known banking firm. The ceremony will take place at the home of the bride, after which a wedding banquet and reception will be held at Delmonico's. The list of invitations to the reception is very large and embraces some of the richest and most prominent families in the city. The union of these two families is regarded on Wall street as one of the most important, so far as wealth is concerned, that has taken place there for many years.

The Senate Judiciary Committee, by a strict party vote, has decided against the confirmation of Zach Montgomery. The friends of Montgomery think he will pull through when the case reaches the Senate, as Jones, of Nevada, and other Republicans are counted on to vote for his confirmation.

The President sent a special message to the Senate yesterday, taking the grounds that the papers relating to suspensions from office are not official papers, and consequently he does not feel justified in sending copies of them to the Senate.

The Elko Independent says: Miss Grant finding that her school was increasing to such an extent as to crowd her school room, removed her establishment to the University building, where she is now located. The school is flourishing.

Modoc and Humboldt counties are complaining to the California Fish Commission of sawdust in their streams. They will probably be told, as Nevada is told, that sawdust is healthy food for the fish.

The House has passed Louttit's bill granting Mrs. Evans, widow of General George S. Evans, of San Francisco, a pension of $30 per month and $4 per month each for her two children.

The Senate Committee on Public Lands has voted to report adversely on the nomination of Surveyor General De-mont of Utah.

How the People Are Made to Suffer.

The Austin Reveille says:

It has been just a year since Austin has been without its daily mail. Up to last March there was a daily mail from Battle Mountain ever since the Central Pacific Railroad was completed to that point and before the railroad was commenced there was an overland stage line which gave us daily communication with the outside world. This being the fact the absence of a daily mail service is severely felt by not only Austin but a very large section of country extending south, east and west of us. It is safe to say that 4,000 people are affected by it. The reason we have only a tri-weekly mail is this: When stages run it is left to the discretion of the Postoffice Department to fix the compensation. When stages run between Austin and Battle Mountain the pay was from $14,000 to $16,000 a year. After the Nevada Central was completed this pay was steadily and gradually cut down until now it will not pay for the coal burned on the train, and we all know that the receipts from passengers and freights will not justify running daily, keeping up a road, paying force, taxes, etc. So it became simply a question of lessening service or bankruptcy. Hence daily trains were drawn off and only tri-weekly trains run.

There is a stupid law of Congress which is partially responsible for this. This law makes an arbitrary price to be paid per mile per ton of mail. On long roads like the Central Pacific this amounts to enough to be a big revenue but on the little feeders like the Enreka & Palisade and Nevada Central it amounts to very little. A distinction should be made in this as in all other big and little enterprises. But we think we see a ray of light ahead in this.

Senator Fair is just now buying himself to help Nevada all he can. We are pleased to see this, for our little State needs all it can get from the General Government. Only last Saturday Senator Fair telegraphed that he had persuaded the Postoffice Department to put the mail service between Winnemucca and Paradise Valley back to a daily instead of a tri-weekly. As Paradise is nothing like as big as Austin, to say nothing of its tributaries, it does seem as if there might be a hope that the Senator can get us a similar extension.

A year ago prominent Austinites telegraphed to Senators Jones, Fair and Congressman Cassidy asking them to try and get us a daily mail. The Reveille published the telegram at the time. Nothing ever came of it. In fact we do not remember that it was even acknowledged by the gentlemen to whom it was sent. There was a big tariff discussion going on in Congress at the time and everything had to stand back for it. But it does now seem that a petition signed by a few prominent residents, if again telegraphed our representatives in Washington would be likely to spur them up to do all they possibly can to help us in the matter. There is no reason why the daily mail should not be given Austin. If the railroad is treated anything like the stage lines were there will be a daily mail immediately. We urge the matter upon our business men who are so deeply interested in it. Let it be attended to at once.

American Tobacco Crop.

In response to a Congressional inquiry, some interesting statistics touching the tobacco crop of the United States have just been made public. The period covered is the five calendar years of 1880-1-2-3-4. In round numbers the product for 1880 was 460,000,000 lbs. from 610,000 acres, valued at $39,100,000, showing an average of 8 1/2¢ per lb. 854 lbs to the acre, equal to $64 10 to the acre. In 1881 the crop was 541,504,000 lbs. from 724,668 acres, valued at $44,160,151 showing an average of 8.2¢ per lb. 747 lbs to the acre, equal to $60 94 to the acre. The crop for 1884 was the largest up to that time, and the price was the lowest. The average for the above five years was 483,401,453 lbs from 658,234 acres, valued at $42,055,493 or 8.7¢ per lb. For the previous ten years the average was 464,320,000 lbs. from 629,944 acres, valued at $39,770,600.

The Susanville Advocate says:

The Depot Hotel, in Reno, under the management of Parry & Fitzgerald, is one of the best places in Reno at which to stop. Mr. Parry has long been an employee in this well-known house, and Mr. Fitzgerald was for years manager of the Palace Hotel. Both these gentlemen understand the business thoroughly, and will do all in their power to please guests. The prices are the same as at other hotels in Reno, and we recommend this house to all Lassen county people who visit Reno.

The sub-committee that has charge of the Chinese bills in the House has not yet submitted its report, although it is drawn up. The report, it is understood, recommends the Morrow bill.

The farmers of Mason Valley are anxiously awaiting the "boom" that is soon to strike Aurora. It will give them a good market for their crops.

Carriages of the President and his Cabinet—Menatorial Turnouts.

A few years ago fine equipages in Washington were so scarce that a handsome team on the street was readily recognized by all passers-by, says the Washington Star. Now they are so plentiful that even the best posted horsemen cannot keep track of them. Any one who has frequented Pennsylvania avenue of late years cannot have failed to notice the change. Magnificent horses, covered with gold and silver-mounted harness, drawing elegant carriages can be seen every pleasant afternoon. Every one who keeps horses seems to have made special preparations for this winter. The carriages are all new, or have just been overhauled, so that they look like new, and the elegant livery of the coachmen look as if they had just come from the tailor's. The horses are clipped and banded, or else they are groomed so well that their coats look like velvet. The Summer Victorias and phaetons have given way, for the most part, to coupes and landaulets. Horsemen say that Washington is improving just as rapidly in its horses and carriages as in its residences, and they predict that in a very few years it will surpass any city in the country in the number of elegant turnouts to be seen on the street.

The President's equipage naturally attracts more attention than any other. It is well worth looking at. The seal browns have improved very perceptibly under the care of Albert Hawkins. Each one weighs 150 pounds more than when the team came here. They are spirited and are driven without checks, usually to an elegant landau, but sometimes to a Victoria. The men on the box have new light livery with big, black fur capes. The President sometimes rides out behind the office team—a spanking pair of clipped bays.

Secretary Bayard's private team is a comfortable looking pair of bang-tailed bays, driven to a large coach. The Secretary has a fine saddle horse. It is said that no man is able to sit on his back, but Miss Bayard has him under perfect control. With her he is as gentle as a lamb.

Secretary Endicott's office team is a nice pair of big bays to a large carriage. He has a very handsome pair of bays of his own, however, and a new brougham and landaulet.

Secretary Whitney takes the lead among the Cabinet officers as a judge of horse-flesh. He delights in fine turnouts and spares neither trouble nor expense to secure the best possible. His Washington horses, seven in number, are kept at Downey's, and they are the admiration of the stable. A magnificent pair of clean-limbed, big roans, clipped, with the tails banded very short, are driven to a coupe, a Brewster brougham and Victoria. The coachman and footman wear light livery. Next the roans stand a pair of road horses, clipped bays. He has two saddle horses—a black, with long tail and velvet coat for private use, and a banded-tail bay, and besides he has a bay buggy horse that can trot in twenty.

The other members of the Cabinet do not pride themselves on their horses. A handsome pair of big grays, brothers, belong to the Postoffice Department, one for the Postmaster-General and the other for his First Assistant. They could not be told apart were it not for different looking drivers. Secretary Lamar has but one horse, a gray, driven to an open carriage. Attorney-General Garland prefers to travel afoot, or in the street cars. Secretary Manning uses only the department turnout, but is understood to be on the lookout for a fine team.

Opposite Secretary Whitney's horses, at Downey's, stand Senator Don Cameron's three beauties. His two big clipped bays, valued at $2,500, are considered equal to any team in the city. They are driven to a coupe and a brougham. The white men on the box wear dark green livery. His third horse is a big black, which is driven to both a coupe single and with one of the big bays, if either needs a rent.

Senator Salin owns one of the finest stables in the city, composed of nine horses. He has a pair of black Hambletonian horses valued at $2,500, driven to both a coupe and landau. He has another horse valued at $1,200, a large black coupe horse valued at $500, and a pair of handsome roadsters that are first-class travelers.

Senator Leland Stanford keeps seven fine horses at Wash. Nailer's. His principle team is a pair of handsome blacks, with long tails, driven to either an eight-spring D'Orsay or a Victoria. The harness is silver mounted. The driver and footman are white, in black livery, with black rosettes on their hats. These blacks are perhaps the largest carriage horses that ever came to this city. Each is seventeen hands and an inch high. Senator Stanford's road team is valued at $40,000. They are both rich bays, and of course, the finest of thoroughbreds. They are of good size, with splendid frames. The mare Helen, is only a four-year-old, with a record of 2:18 1/2. Her mate, Record, by Electioneer, has a record of 2:20 1/2. They are considered the fastest double team in the city. Their owner frequently takes long rides behind them in a buggy. He has here also another pair of carriage horses, bays, sixteen and a half hands high, seven and eight years old. They are Mrs. Stanford's favorite horses. One has a record of 2:36 1/2 and the other 2:42 1/2. The remaining horse is a brown or dark-bay named Kemble, that trots in the twenties. He is generally driven single, though occasionally he is driven with one of the others. Besides the carriages already mentioned Senator Stanford has two pole wagons and a large sleigh, and will have a new victoria next week. On his farm near San Francisco there are 800 fine horses. Among them it is claimed, are the fastest yearlings, 2-year-olds and 3-year-olds in the world. Notwithstanding the speed of the horses that are here Wash Nailer threatens that Minnie Palmer, his little black, will throw snow in the faces of any of them should there be sleighing this winter.

Senator Jones' (Nev.) eight-spring coach cost $3,200. He has, besides, a brougham and a T-cart. His horses are big bays.

Senator Payne, of Ohio, has a new six passenger family rockaway drawn by a nice pair of bays.

Senator Cambden, of West Virginia, has a pair of large clipped bays, almost mouse color, with banded tails. The coupe has red striping.

Senator Warner Miller owns a pair of high-stepping thoroughbreds Hambletonian bays that trot to the poles in three minutes. They are rather small with long tails and travel in great style. They are driven in plain harness to a landaulet for office use, but they have a plated harness when driven in a handsome landau.

Senator Allison is driven to and from the Capitol in a handsome six-seat rockaway drawn by a comfortable pair of bays. He also drives out in a Victoria.

But two of the foreign ministers accredited to this country keep private horses and carriages. These are the British Ministers and the Japanese Minister. The establishment of the latter official is provided by the home Government. He drives bays to a large barouche.

The British Minister is obliged to keep up his stable at his own expense. He has three nice clipped bays, all very much alike and interchangeable. They were bought in Washington and are descended from some of Gov. Bowie's stock. The carriages—landaun, Victoria and coupe—and harness were brought from England. This turnout can be very readily recognized. The English coachman and footman wear blue livery, with silver hat bands.

All the other foreign ministers hire their carriages by the month, or when needed.

THE EUREKA CON.—Says the New York Financial and Mining Journal We are glad to learn that the recent experiments made by the great Balbach works at Newark, New Jersey, with the speers of the Eureka property, has been very satisfactory, having yielded on an average by assay $26 per ton in silver and gold Therefore a five-ton roasting furnace for further experiment with this speers will be erected without delay at Eureka It is proper to say that during the last year this property was wholly self sustaining, exclusive of nearly $60,000 spent in essential improvements.
